MOTORCYCLE RACES IN DIXON JULY 4TH COME EARLY AND STAY LATE

PERMITS CHILD TO FREEZE TO DEATH

FORMER TAMPICO PEOPLE IN FRIGHTFUL MURDER OF INFANT.

BURY BODY IN MANURE PILE

Happened in Eyebrow, Canada — Several Persons Are Held By Canadian Police.

The following message sent from Moose Jaw, Canada, refers to three former citizens of Tampico, south of Sterling, Ill. who are also well known in this vicinity:

From Eyebrow comes a story of human depravity and disregard for human life which has seldom, if ever, been equalled in this part of Saskatchewan. As a result three women and one man are under arrest and will be brought before J. J. McDonough and Arthur Porter, justices of the peace at Eyebrow. The prisoners were brought up Saturday morning, but were remanded until next week on the request of Sgt. King of the R. N. W. M. P.

Frightful Crime.

It was just before the noon hour on Friday that Sgt. King and Constable Passe, with Arthur Porter, J. P., drove out to the Greenman farm from Eyebrow. Mrs. Greenman was immediately placed under arrest and charged with the murder of her illegitimate son. That the police had good knowledge of the case beforehand was evidenced by the fact that they at once went to a manure pile and with pitchforks turned over accumulation from the stables during the past winter. They had not long to work before they found the decomposed body of the child. Then with Mrs. Greenman and the alleged body of her infant, they started back to Eyebrow, which is ten miles distant from the Greenman farm.

In one rig was Sgt. King, Mrs. Greenman, Arthur Porter and a that was left of the dead child. Behind them drove Constable Passe with Mrs. Coldwell and Mr. and Mrs. Foy, father and mother of Mrs. Greenman. They were taken into Eyebrow to give evidence at the inquest held last night by Dr. Jessop. In all there were half a dozen witnesses examined and the questions put to each by Sgt. King showed the care with which the case had been worked up despite the short time at his command.

In short the evidence went to show that Mrs. Greenman gave birth to the child in March last. Mrs. Coldwell was the nurse in attendance and after the birth the infant was taken to the barn and left there to freeze. Mrs. Coldwell said that she was ordered to do this by Mrs. Greenman, after it had been talked over and agreed to by Mr. and Mrs. Foy, parents of Mrs. Greenman. All one night the child was left in the barn and when morning came it is said that Foy buried the body in the manure pile, and then apparently the hideous crime was forgotten.

However, on the evening of June 11 Pat Kelley, a former hired man, arrived at the Greenman farm and demanded to see his boy. He was refused any information and at the point of a shotgun Foy drove him from the premises. In self-defense he pulled a gun and fired a shot, being ultimately captured by an armed posse after some gun play. Kelly was committed for trial on a charge of attempted murder. He is the man who some time ago entered a suit against Mrs. Greenman for breach of promise of marriage.

Kelly said in the witness box here last winter when he was suing Mrs. Greenman for wages, that she had been his common law wife, and had promised to marry him, but her love grew cold and she threw him over.

Mrs. John Greenman came from Illinois with her husband and parents several years ago, but her husband died on his farm in the Eyebrow hills leaving plenty of money and she had since conducted the farm herself.

Mrs. Greenman is under arrest on a charge of the murder of her child, while orders have also been given for the arrest of Mrs. Coldwell, the nurse and Mr. and Mrs. Foy, parents of Mrs. Greenman.

CHURCHES WILL BE OPEN TO THE PUBLIC

PLEASANT AND SPACIOUS ROOMS WILL BE PROVIDED FOR COMFORT.

CROWD WILL BE CARED FOR

Emergency Hospital Will Be Fitted Up—Public Rest Rooms Will Have All Facilities for Convenience of Public.

Arrangements are being made by the Young Men's branch of the Dixon Citizens' association for the comfort of the mammoth crowd that is expected here July Fourth as the result of the program the association has mapped out and advertised.

Committees were appointed at a meeting this noon to see the pastors of the various down town churches, and see if it would be possible to keep the temples of worship open all day the Fourth for the convenience of the women and children, who will be tired and hot and will want places to rest.

Several of the churches have already been arranged for, and there is no doubt that all will be secured, so that the women and children, and men if they like, will find plenty of spacious, cool, comfortable, resting places away from the sun, etc., or shelter from the rain if a storm should come up. There are five large churches that are within a block of the business district and they have all conveniences.

Emergency Hospital.

Arrangements were also made for a couple of emergency hospitals for use in case of accident, sunstroke or any case of illness, as there are apt to be in a crowd of 30,000 or more excited people who are watching airplane flights, motorcycle races, athletic contests, etc. Nurses and physicians will be stationed at the emergency camps which will be located in the downtown section. One station will be on the ground floor of the Nachusa house, which Thomas Young donated for the use. Electric fans, couches, etc., will be installed there and attendants will give "first aid" to all who are brought there. Another such room will be fitted up in the basement under the O. H. Martin store, which has also been offered for use.

No illness or accident is anticipated by those in charge of the day, but they know that in such an immense crowd there is very apt to be persons who will need attention, and they want to be prepared to take care of them immediately and well.

The crowd on the Fourth will be a big one, but Dixon is going to be prepared for it.

A list of the churches and other places which will be open as public resting rooms, etc., will be published shortly.

BUILDING ADDITION AT CEMENT FACTORY

OUTPUT OF DIXON PLANT WILL BE INCREASED 500 BARRELS DAILY.

The Sandusky-Portland Cement company has a large force of men, including several expert structural iron workers, at work at its plant east of the city, erecting additions to the factory will increase its plant capacity about 500 barrels per day. The new addition, which will be similar to the large building of the plant, is rapidly nearing completion, and the company is hurrying the work as rapidly as possible, inasmuch as the Dixon institution is now rushed to capacity to take care of the many large orders being constantly received.

Frank M. Pearse, the Dixon horse man who has been training his string of fourteen animals at Aurora, has shipped eight of his best entries, including Fannie Shirley, to Jackson, Mich., where he will start a campaign through the Michigan circuit. Mr. Pearse has some exceptionally good horses in his string this year and some wins may be expected.

ROCKFORD PEPPERS HERE NEXT SUNDAY

FAST FOREST CITY BUNCH WILL MEET DIXON STARS AT 3 P. M.

The Rockford Peppers, a team which, according to all reports, merits the name they have taken, will be the opponents of the Dixon Stars at Athletic park Sunday afternoon, and the boys should be given a big attendance as this team was secured at a considerably greater expense than has been usual. When the Lyons Merchants cancelled their game with the Stars with no apparent reason, the management of the Stars was at a great disadvantage in securing another team, and only good fortune and a liberal guarantee permitted them securing the Peppers.

The Stars will present a stronger team next Sunday than they have at any time this season. Monahan, whose batting has always been consistent, will be back in the game and will cavort around shortstop, while several other changes have been planned. Huber will pitch and of course Keenan will do the receiving.

BETWEEN DEVIL AND THE DEEP SEA

COMMISSIONERS OF DRAINAGE DIST. NO. 1, HARMON AND MARION IN QUANDARY

COURT DECISIONS THE CAUSE

Circuit Court Orders Work Done—County Court Denies Tax Judgement.

The commissioners of Union Drainage District No. 1 of Harmon and Marion townships, find themselves in a position greatly analogous to that described as being "between the devil and the deep sea," for two distinct and separate court decisions—one from the circuit court and the other emanating from the Lee county court—have made it necessary for these commissioners to do a lot of work, but have taken away from them the wherewithal to complete it.

The condition arises out of the mandamus proceedings which were brought against the commissioners in the circuit court of Lee county a year ago, at which time, after hearing all the evidence, the court ordered that certain extensions of the drainage system be made. After the court's order the commissioners had no other recourse but to go ahead with the improvements, and accordingly when the tax levy was made up certain additional property was assessed.

Judgement Denied.

But several of the property owners objected to being assessed for the improvement and accordingly refused to pay their taxes for that purpose. Improvement and accordingly refused. E. C. Vaughan applied for judgement to sell all property on which taxes were delinquent on the 9th of this month, these property owners appeared and through their objections had the levy denied and judgement refused.

Therefore the commissioners were deprived of this additional money, and accordingly have insufficient funds to complete the work that has been ordered by the circuit court.

Seek Legal Aid.

However, the men in charge are determined to complete the drainage project if possible and this afternoon they came to Dixon to confer with Judge R. S. Farrand and secure, if possible, an order for a special assessment.

In the meantime they are contemplating carrying the question into the circuit court at the September term, and will seek to have an order entered at that time allowing for the collection of those taxes next spring.

KAYLOR ESTATE IS EQUALLY DIVIDED

WIDOW AND CHILDREN EACH RECEIVE ONE-THIRD OF THE PROPERTY

The will of the late S. S. Kaylor, which was admitted to probate in the probate court this week, provides for the division of Mr. Kaylor's estate equally between his widow, Mrs. Cora M. Kaylor, his son, A. L. Kaylor, and his daughter, Mrs. Emma Bartholomew, each to receive one-third of the estate after $1,000 has been paid to each of his grandchildren, Maude Bartholomew and Lloyd Bartholomew. The son, A. L. Kaylor, was made executor without bond. No inventory was filed, therefore the value of the estate is not known.

The policy of the school will in no way be changed, but every effort will be made by Mr. Scovill to maintain the high standard that the institution has already attained for proficiency.

While the school will now be owned by Mr. Scovill the system of co-operation with the other schools of the Brown system will be maintained, so that students attending the school will have the same advantages of transfer they have had, the same high grade correspondence course being maintained.

The immediate relatives of the contracting parties were aware of the fact that the event was about to take place but the young people sought to avoid a charivari by quietly getting away and getting married. The groom is a salesman for the I. N. U. Co., and resides at Sterling where he and his bride will live. They are popular and well known young people and have hosts of friends here who will extend congratulations on their return, as they are now enjoying their honeymoon. 1,000 MINERS QUIT

Workers in Cabin Creek District in W. Virginia on Strike.

United Mine Workers Attempted to Avoid Trouble, but Agitated Win.

Charleston, W. Va., June 27.—One thousand miners of the Cabin Creek district are reported to have gone on a strike. No disorder is said to have occurred.

Runners sent out by officials of the United Mine Workers, after it was learned that strike agitators were attempting to call a strike, were unable to turn the tide and a majority of the miners at Acme and Kayford, two of the largest mines of the Cabin Creek Consolidated Coal company, refused to return.

The strike has not extended to Paint Creek. At the request of the New River operators Governor Hatfield is holding conferences with officials of the Mine Workers' union relative to the situation in that field.

A call for a general strike in the New River field was sent out, to be effective July 1. The operators ask that such action be postponed for a few days in the hope that a settlement may be reached.

Washington, June 27.—Attorney General McReynolds retained Thomas E. Hayden, former president of the San Francisco board of education, as one of the counsel for the government in the prosecution of the Caminetti-Diggs and Western Fuel cases, delay in the trial of which led to the resignation of United States District Attorney McNab at San Francisco.

FISH AND GAME BILL PASSED.

The bill abolishing the state fish and game departments and creating the State Game and Fish Conservation commission has passed the legislature and becomes effective July 1, 1913. This cancels all commissions to fish and game wardens, whose positions will be filled by five state fish and game wardens and sixty deputy wardens, who will be required to pass the state civil service tests. No provision is made for special deputy wardens other than constituting all constituents as ex officio special deputy wardens, who shall receive as their fees one-half of the fines collected upon convictions secured by them.The most important change in the fish law is the "possession" clause, which prohibits any person having in his possession any of the following mentioned fish which are less than the length mentioned for each:
Black bass, 11 inches; pike or pickeral, 18 inches; white or striped bass 8 inches; croppie, 8 inches; rock bass, 6 inches; yellow or ringed perch, 7 inches; pike perch or wall-eyed pike, 13 inches. This section provides that if any such undersizedfish is taken, the person taking it shall immediately return it to the water from which it was taken, without unnecessary injury to such fish.Black bass, pike or pickerel, or pike perch (wall eyed pike) can be taken only with hook and line held in the hand or attached to a rod held in the hand. The penalty is $10 to $200 for each undersized fish, or for each black bass, pike, pickerel or pike perch caught in a manner contrary to the provisions of the law.Trammel nets are abolished and seines limited to 200 yards long.The law also empowers and authorizes the commission to set aside waters are state fish preserves, in which it is unlawful to fish with any device except hand line or rod and line. The penalty for the first offense is $50 to $100, and for the second offense, $100 to $200, "and in either case shall stand committed to the county jail, there to remain until such fine and costs are fully paid."A movement is already on foot to have Fox, Rock, Desplaines and Kankakee rivers and all waters tributary to or connected with these rivers, set aside as state fish preserves.The principal changes in the game laws are as follows:Open season for prairie chickens,
Nov. 11 to 24, both inclusive.Open season for mourning doves,
Aug. 16 to Oct. 31, both inclusive.Open season for squirrels, July 1 to Nov. 15.Closed season on ruffed grouse (partridge), Hungarian partridge, Mexican blue quail, California mountain quail, California valley quail, capercalzie, health grouse (black grouse) and wood cock up to July 1, 1920.Closed season on wild turkey, sand grouse, partridge and all kinds of pheasants extended to July 1, 1920.No protection of any kind on black birds.It is unlawful to feed any kind of seeds or grains, or to bait any wild goose, wild duck, brant, rail or other wild water fowl for the purpose of shooting, trapping or ensnaring them.No person who is not a citizen of the United States, or who has not declared his intention of becoming such, can secure a hunting license.It is unlawful to hunt rabbits with ferrets."Whenever a license shall have been issued to any person under the provisions of this Act and such licensee shall violate any of the provisions of this Act the license so issued shall be immediately revoked by the commission. (This applies to all hunting and fishing licenses.)
A fine of $25 to $100 is the penalty provided for anyone who resists, obstructs or interferes with any warden in the discharge of his duties.

LOBBY PROBERS TOLD OF PLOT

Senators Informed by Palmer That Members Were Impersonated Over Telephone.

MESSAGE REVEALED SCHEME

Representative's Conversation With Lewis Cass Ledyard Results in Lawmaker Learning Facts—Lauterbach in Denial.

Washington, June 27.—The senate lobby committee was startled last night when Representative A. Mitchell Palmer of Pennsylvania testified that efforts had been made by some person, whose name he did not give, to create the impression in high financial circles in New York that he, Speaker Clark, Majority Leader Underwood and other prominent Democrats could be influenced in legislative matters in a way that would please these interests.

Mr. Palmer swore that Lewis Cass Ledyard, a New York attorney, had told him of repeated telephone conversations with a man purporting to be "Representative Palmer of Pennsylvania," who said he possessed the confidence of leading Democratic legislators.

After many telephone talks Mr. Palmer said Mr. Ledyard met Edward Lauterbach, another New York attorney, who was supposed to represent the mysterious user of the telephone. Lauterbach, he said, spoke of this person's influence with high officials in Washington and named several.

Lauterbach Denies Charge.
Mr. Lauterbach later took the stand and made a statement denying that he had ever claimed to have influence with congressmen.

"I don't know people in Washington," he said. "I don't know any of the people investigating things this year."

Lauterbach explained his conversations with Mr. Ledyard by saying he had talked with him about the alleged interest of Congressman Rlordan in his employment by the Union Pacific railroad.

Mr. Palmer took the stand at his own request.

"In view of the turn which your investigation has taken by reason of Judge Lovett's testimony," he said, "I felt it my duty to acquaint you with an experience of my own of that kind so that you might have the benefit of it if you cared to pursue this branch of the investigation deeply."

DUKE OF SUTHERLAND DEAD

Second Largest Land Owner of Europe Expires in London.

London, June 27.—Cromartie Sutherland-Leveson-Gower, fourth duke of Sutherland, is dead here.

The duke of Sutherland, who was born July 20, 1851, was, with the exception of the emperor of Russia, the largest land owner in Europe. His Scottish estates embraced almost 1,500,000 acres. He owned 30,000 acres in Staffordshire and Shropshire and much landed property in other countries. The duke was noted as a sportsman and a fine yachtsman. As the marquis of Stafford he several times visited the United States on shooting trips.

In 1884 he married Lady Millicent Fanny St. Clair-Erskine.

FAMILY THEATRE

Burns, Brown & Burns, comedy actors, and performers, are entertaining patrons in this theatre. They are big laugh makers beside doing exceptionally clever work on triple bars, such as never seen before in Dixon. Rudolfs & Lena, the Tyrolean singing, dancing and whistling team are winners, their act is something new, a novelty imported for the vaudeville stage direct from Tyrol. Their yodling, whistling and national dances score immense applause.

PICKS JUSTICE GERARD

ORIGINALLY SLATED FOR SPAIN,
BUT SENT TO BERLIN.

J. E. Willard, Former Lieutenant Governor of Virginia, Appointed to Madrid.

Washington, June 27.—Justice James W. Gerard of the New York state supreme court has been selected by President Wilson to be ambassador to Germany. Justice Gerard was originally slated for Spain. Just what occasioned the change has not been explained, but it is said to have been the desire of President Wilson to fill the most important European posts at once.

Justice Gerard sailed from New York without knowing he had been transferred on the president's list. After a short trip abroad, however, he is expected to return to Washington before finally taking up residence in Berlin.

Joseph E. Willard, former lieutenant governor of Virginia, now is slated for Madrid. Recently he had been selected for Belgium. It has not been decided upon who will take his place on the list for Brussels.

The embassy to France still is being held open for William F. McComb, Democratic national chairman. It was reiterated that within a year Charles R. Crane of Chicago would become ambassador to Russia. Practically the only European posts which have not been filled or for which no choice has been made are Lisbon, Constantinople and the Balkan states.

Albert G. Schmedemann of Wisconsin was nominated for minister to Norway and Benton McMillin, former governor of Tennessee, for minister to Peru by the president.

Other nominations sent to the senate included:

Members of the commission on industrial relations—Frank P. Walsh, Kansas City; John R. Commons, Wisconsin; Mrs. J. Borden Harriman, New York; Frederick A. Delano, Chicago; Harris Weinstock, California; E. Thurston Ballard, Kentucky; John B. Lennon, Illinois; James O'Connell, Washington, D. C., and Austin Garretson, Iowa.

LEGEND OF NATURAL BRIDGE

It Saved the Mohegans and Was Thenceforth Called by Them the Bridge of God.

At a height of 215 feet above Clear creek in Virginia stands the famous natural bridge known all over the world. Built of solid rock forty feet thick, it spans the creek. It is a great natural wonder. Our great and beloved national hero, George Washington, once climbed it and carved his name upon its side. The Mohegan tribe of Indians called it the Bridge of God and ascribed to it this supernatural origin.

Once upon a time it happened that the Mohegans were at war with a hostile tribe of Indians. The fight was hot, and a valiant stand they made against their foe. But at last the Mohegans were forced to give way and to retreat. On and on they went, the whole tribe with their women and children, and the enemy behind them. Finally they came to a precipice. Below yawned a cavern, wide and deep, and no way to cross or means to escape was anywhere to be seen. Perilous and helpless indeed was the plight of the Mohegans. They were ready to give up and submit to the cruel fate that was pursuing them. Then a wise man of the tribe spoke. "My children," he said, "go down upon your knees and pray to the Great Spirit above, who alone can save us from our misfortunes."

All in a body they obeyed the words of the old medicine man. Long and hard they prayed. When they finally lifted up their heads, lo, there stood a mighty bridge. Across it they now led the women and children, and then turned upon their foes, who were close at hand. They gave the enemy a hard battle and finally repulsed and defeated them. In gratefulness to Manitou, the Great Spirit of the world, they named this bridge the Bridge of God.

Smoke Abatement in Scotland.

The gas and electrical departments of a corporation in Glasgow, Scotland, are competing keenly in the exhibition of appliances for the reduction of smoke from furnaces and kitchen ranges. The electricity department has a complete electrically fitted restaurant, where all the cooking, the kitchen work, the cleaning, the heating and the lighting are effected by electric current. The gas department has a "gas equipped house," in which all the cooking and heating is done by gas fires, as well as many of the other operations in connection with house-keeping, and in which all the lighting is obtained from incandescent gas burners of different types. The corporation is encouraging the reduction of smoke, not only by holding these periodical exhibitions, but also by lending gas cookers free to all the citizens. It has loaned 37,000 of these cookers since March 1. It is also supplying gas fires, and the demand for these has been so great that it cannot be met without considerable delay.

Down the Scale.

A certain bride is very much in love with her husband and very willing to admit it. She likes to sound his praises to her mother and to her girl friends. She has a number of original expressions. When her husband is good she says he is "chocolate cake, three layers deep." When he is very good he "chocolate cake, four layers deep," and so on up the scale. Occasionally, however, things take a turn.

The bride's mother dropped in the other day. The bride was a trifle peevish, but her mother pretended not to notice this.

"And how is John today?" was her inquiry. "Chocolate, four layers deep?"
"No."
"Three layers deep?"
"No."
"Two layers deep?"
"No." This with a pout.
"Then what is he?"
"Dog biscuit!"—National Monthly.

Virtue in the "But."

"Justice is blind," but she sees more than she takes official notice of. "Put something by for a rainy day," but don't let that lead you to forget the pleasant weather of the moment.

"The world owes you a living," but it's just as well to go out and collect the debt.

"Old friends are best," but every once in a while a new one turns up fit to make into an old one.

"Make friends," but don't expect friends to make you.

"Man proposes," but, often enough, the baby disposes.

"The way of the transgressor is hard," but his wife's is harder.

"Opportunity knocks once at every door," but if you're knocking at the same instant you're not likely to hear the lady.—Lippincott's.

Explanation of "O. K."

Here is the origin of the expression "O. K.," according to Ado Hunnius of Leavenworth, Kan., a veteran of the Civil war:

"Among the supplies that the war department used to buy," Mr. Hunnius says, "were crackers made by the old Orrine-Kendall Cracker company in Chicago. The boxes in which these crackers came were marked O. K. We were always eager to get hold of these 'O. K.' crackers, because they were always sure to be good, while many other brands were likely to be spoiled or wormy. And gradually O. K. came to be a synonym among the soldiers for something that was above

LIVING TOWER IS UNIQUE

Captain Meeker Built it on the Tops of Four Redwood Trees in California.

What is known as the "Living Tower" (says a writer in the Wide World Magazine) stands on the very summit of a hill more than two hundred feet high at Camp Meeker, a summer resort in Sonoma county, California. It was Captain Meeker, an old pioneer, who first conceived the idea of building a tower on the very summit of a high hill near his hotel, and while looking around one day for a suitable site, he found four young redwood trees standing about twelve feet apart, representing a perfect square. The trees were each about one hundred and fifty feet high. Fifty feet of each top was lopped off, and the work of building six stories was then commenced. From top to bottom the Living Tower was one hundred feet high. Each floor is about twelve by twelve feet, and rests on strong timbers, the ends of which are securely attached to the four trees by means of steel cables and bolts. So strongly was every part braced that the whole structure does not move as much as one would naturally suppose, even when rocked by heavy winds. In the building great care was taken by the workmen to cut only the branches growing on the inside of the square, and the trees were not chopped, mutilated, or weakened any more than could possibly be avoided. Leading up from each story are broad stairways, so that one may ascend and descend with ease and perfect safety, while around the edge of each floor are strong railings to prevent accidents. Since this tower was completed, the trees have grown and flourished just as well as before. This living tower is claimed to be the only one of its kind in the world.

GREAT IS THE BUCKWHEAT!

Only Pumpkin Pie May Be Likened to the Tasty Cereal Cakes, Says Rhapsodist.

This modest flowering plant makes but a poor showing in our annual crop returns—some 10,000,000 bushels, perhaps. As a grain it figures insignificantly, outside of New York and Pennsylvania. But it is to be noted that the honey bee is aware of its peculiar virtue, preferring alone the white clover to the buckwheat blossoms. Farmers who keep bees know this and plant patches of the grain.

Wise as the bee is the man who awaits the honey from the hive, the flour from the buckwheat; then follows the griddle cake.

Its time is at hand. It goes with sausage or Philadelphia scrapple. There are such distinct American products that one reads with keen sympathy in the latest life of the expatriated genius, Whistler, how he was so devoted to buckwheat cakes that "he insisted almost at the price of friendship that others share his enthusiasm." How could others be expected to do so born outside the buckwheat belt? Wretched, homesick artist.

Other countries are blessed with special foods, from the caviare of Russia to the macaroni of Italy, but they are beyond the pale, pitifully ignorant of what they miss and of what we are about to enjoy. In America there is nothing sectional about the buckwheat cake; it springeth up as a lowly flower, and in the common taste for it, is to be likened only to the unpretentious pumpkin pie.—Philadelphia Press.

Interesting Facts About Oysters.

An oyster is wonderfully prolific. A single oyster in a single season will produce 30,000,000 eggs. If these all survive and in turn had normal families, in a few years many great bodies of water, such as Long Island Sound, Peconic, Gardiners, Narragansett, Great South and Chesapeake bays would become filled up. Navigation would have to be suspended.

The oyster shells would form solid land, as do the houses of the coral insects of the South Pacific. But instead of increasing, the destruction of the young oysters by their enemies is so great, together with the depletion of the natural beds by the demand for this delicious food by mankind, that far from increasing, in past years the supply was greatly depleted. In many cases it has threatened to become extinct. This was especially true in Great Britain and some places on the Atlantic coast.

In recent years, however, a vast industry has been established for the artificial propagation and cultivation of oysters. Now hundreds of thousands of acres are employed in oyster farming in the great bays and sounds of the Atlantic seaboard. Here oyster farming under from 30 to 60 feet of water is conducted upon an enormous scale, at great expense and labor.

Good Model.

He was somewhat eaten up with a mistaken consciousness of his own importance, and when he was making his great speech in the Middlecombe mock parliament, he noted that one of the local pressmen appeared to be sketching him. When the "house" adjourned he buttonholed the artist.

"I believe—aw—you were—aw—sketching me; isn't that so—aw?" he inquired.

"That is so," replied the artist.

"Well—aw—would you—aw—tell me what noospaper you—aw—represent—aw?"

"I don't represent any newspaper," answered the artist. "I design comic postcards."—Tidbits.

WEST BROOKLYN

Paul Tressler of Decatur, Ill., is visiting relatives and friends here. It has been a long time since he left West Brooklyn and we are told that even his mother did not recognize him upon his arrival. He is a barber at Decatur.

Christian Henkel was here from South Brooklyn Monday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Gallisath and son John were in Dixon Thursday, and Mr. Gallisath and John and daughter Carrie, were there Saturday. They made the trips in their auto.

Eri B. Conibear visited here Monday.

Mary Henkel of Sublette and Lee Henkel of St. Francis College at Milwaukee are guests of Mr. and Mrs. John Henkel south of the city this week. The folks visited in West Brooklyn Monday.

Many compliments are heard on the completed street improvements. The grading and crossings were just what were needed, and the catch basins which drain the rainfall in each block.

The advantage of a village free from debt is clearly shown, for every dollar of revenue can be expended for improvements and not even up by interest. West Brooklyn has been blessed with excellent aldermen as shown from the condition of the finances of the city's affairs. You cannot find better improvements anywhere for a town of its size, than in West Brooklyn. Look at the electric lights from one end of the town to the other and the came of the city water works system and cement walks. These are all accomplished, and the village does not owe a dollar of debt but has money in the treasury.

Ed Henry was out to the farm Monday and staked out spots for his new buildings to be erected this summer. His son Edward will move to the new site and farm the place for his father.

Mr. and Mrs. Gustav Wiser of Dixon are visiting at the home of their sons and other relatives in our neighborhood this week.

It looks as if a second addition to West Brooklyn is to be started. You all know the first one is the west side of First street which used to be a cornfield, but which is now occupied by ten or twelve of the finest homes in town. The one now referred to is adjoining the south street of West Brooklyn, Berniger street, and the tract contains a total of seven acres. The strip was purchased Tuesday through the local real estate firm and will be disposed of to those who are lealous of building a home in West Brooklyn. Besides adding a new tract to the city it will also straighten the North line of Frank Halbmaier's farm of whom the land was purchased as he always had a small job, caused by the building of the village, in his farm.

Miss Hattie Clark daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Clark has been taken to the Chandler hospital to undergo an operation for abscess. We trust she will withstand the operation and soon enjoy her good health.

We are happy to report Mrs. Maude Christiance as doing very well in recovering from her operation of a week ago. We hope her improvement continues and soon regains full health.

Albert Barnickel motored here from south of Compton on business Monday.

E. E. Vincent has purchased a Ford auto.

The Illinois Life Insurance Co., is represented in this vicinity by Henry F. & Oliver L. Gehant. Its policies absolutely guarantee the insured more money than is paid into the company during the life of the policy. Is it any wonder we recommend such a policy for a protection on your life to your family and for your self in your old age?

Owen McMahon went to Chicago Wednesday to buy goods for his store.

W. A. Halbmaier was here on business Wednesday.

Mrs. Cora Biggart visited with her daughter, Mrs. Arthur Burley, in Compton Wednesday.

George F. Bauer was in town on business Wednesday.

B. J. Long was a morning passenger for Aurora Wednesday.

Remember the dreadful heat and its effect on your horses in the hay and harvest field. Live stock insurance is the only protection you have in such times and this can be had of H. F. & O. L. Gehant at West Brooklyn, Ill.

Again the longest day of 1913 is past and although the difference is hardly noticeable, yet the days are gradually growing shorter every time the sun rises.

Joe Stewart of Ashton motored to West Brooklyn on business Wednesday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. William Platts left the Nelles home Wednesday afternoon bound for their home in Dixon. They have been staying at the G. L. Nelles place since the family left for the western coast, and assisting the one son, remaining at home, with the chores. During this time Mr. Platts has been working for Prosper Gander and their leaving deprives this firm of one man who is badly needed at this time.

John Bittner was here on business Tuesday.

Miss Ida Fuller visited relatives and friends in Amboy several days this week.

Charles Mackin was here on business Monday.

Frank Herman and Henry W. Gehant motored to Mendota Tuesday afternoon to take the latter's auto to the expert for overhauling. While making the route that day something went wrong with the machinery and it took an expert to right the wrong.

West Brooklyn to Boom

At last the cords that have bound the village of West Brooklyn have been severed. On Tuesday Frank Halbmaier sold to F. D. Gehant through the local real estate agency seven acres of land adjoining the village south and adjacent to Berniger Street and the same will be surveyed and platted into town lots. This will be done as soon as the crops are removed and then lots especially desirable for residences will be placed on the market.

Mr. Gehant within two days after his arrival in West Brooklyn with his family had purchased a property which he will convert into one of the finest homes in town. This will be the first residence to go up in Gehant's addition to West Brooklyn and it is our prediction that before winter arrives many new, up to date homes will adorn the new addition, or at least be contemplated for early erection next spring.

It is Mr. Gehant's intention to make this addition the most desirable property in West Brooklyn. F. D., as he is familiarly called by his host of friends throughout this locality has had much to do with the upbuilding of the permanent improvements of this town which the citizens of this village now enjoy. It is his intention to identify himself permanently with business affairs here and as everyone knows, F. D. never does things by halves. The News predicts this latest business transaction to be one of the most important transpiring in the village for many years. While the price paid for the tract of land to be platted, will not allow the purchaser to dispose of the lots at a low figure, yet anyone desiring to locate on the new addition and will agree to build a home thereon, will be given the preference and at a price that will enable them to secure the ground at first cost plus the expenses in connection with the platting and surveying of the tract.

Now let the work of expansion go forward without delay. The citizens of West Brooklyn are to be congratulated that Mr. Halbmaier and Mr. Gehant were able to arrive at a satisfactory agreement and make this new addition possible. EVERYBODY TO THE WHEEL.

D. O. Fairchild Arrives Safely

A letter from our old friend, D. O. Fairchild tells of his safe arrival at Walnut, Kansas. The letter follows:

Walnut, Kas, June 20, 13.
Editor of West Brooklyn News:—
Dear Friend: A few lines to your paper to tell you that I have arrived all o. k. I left West Brooklyn on the 17th of June about 10 o'clock by going to Mendota. While waiting for my train there we had a very heavy rain storm and this I suppose prevail in the old town at the same time. At 8:20 I boarded the train for Kansas City and arrived in Quincy at 1 o'clock. At 5 o'clock the next day I found myself in Kansas City where I changed cars for Walnut. Part of my trip was made during daylight, and I was enabled to see the country and growing crops to a good advantage. They all appeared good and if the dry weather does not interfere I am certain we will have a good crop in this vicinity. The wheat and corn are looking extra good and many farmers are cutting their wheat now. Mr. Hill, our neighbor, is cutting his oats so you can see about how far ahead of Illinois we are here. I think we will get rain soon, as the sky looks as if it was gathering now.

I found the folks all well and they were pleased to have me surprise them by coming. I got here from Walnut by walking the distance of a mile and a half, which lies between my farm and Walnut. This will be all for this time. With best regards I am yours very truly.

West Brooklyn 12, Dixon 2

The local baseball team defeated the Dixon Cardinals Sunday afternoon in a fast game by a score of 12 to 2. The team was no match for the locals and the latter scored at will, collecting a total of sixteen hits off their pitchers. Among those hits were two home runs by Derr and Biggart, a three base hit by Biggart, and three two base hits by White, Biggart and R. Malach. Biggart was the heavy hitter of the day for in four trips to the plate he collected a home run, a three bagger, a two bagger and a single. Every man on the team made at least one hit, while four of them made two hits each. If the locals can continue this hitting they should be a stumbling block to some of the teams they have been playing previous to Sunday and gain a winning verdict in their next meeting. Their difficulty in the two Compton games they lost was lack of hitting and in the other games played, as well but which they won just the same. Their record now stands four games won and two lost for the season, as they have met and defeated Franklin Grove, Shabbona, Lee Center and the Dixon Cardinals. Their only defeats were administered by the Compton nine. The box score is given below:

RAISING PEARLS ON "FARM"

Japanese Has Decided He Can Produce Them on Land Laid Out in Ocean's Bed.

Mr. Mikimoto's oyster farm in the Bay of Ago, off the coast of Japan, is one of the few successful attempts at the deliberate production of pearls. Mikimoto spent several years in costly experiments before he perfected his scheme.

Then he secured government patents and, according to Popular Mechanics, has succeeded in getting his "farm" on a paying basis. He first makes a bed for his crop in the shallows of the bay, where the larvae of the pearl oyster abound during the months of July and August.

He merely deposits a large number of small stones, to which the oyster spat naturally attach themselves. Then his diving women transplant the young oysters to deeper waters to protect them from the cold.

Here they lie on carefully prepared beds until in their third year they become full grown, and have firmly attached themselves to the stones by means of "necks" which they secrete.

At this time the diving women bring the mollusks to the surface and they undergo an operation. A small seed pearl is introduced into the center of the shell. Then the oysters are replanted in the bed and left alone for four years.

When they are again brought to the surface it is found that the seed pearl nucleus has been covered with many layers of the nacre, a secretion of the mollusk, and the large, brilliant translucent pearl of commerce has been formed.

But the process is not as simple as it appears. During the seven years that the farmer must wait for his crop to mature a large percentage of the oysters die. The oyster beds are raided by such enemies as the octopus and the starfish.

Occasionally the "red current" sweeps over them and in a day destroys the entire crop. At all times the farmer must keep his oyster bed free of "miruno," a seaweed which will smother the crop.

Women divers trained from girlhood to long immersions in the sea are engaged at 20 cents a day to care for the farm. In this work they wear nothing but a head cloth, a white shirt and diving goggles. At each dive they can gather several oysters and return to the surface.

A dive occupies about one minute, and a day's work is from four to six hours. An expert can readily gather 500 oysters a day in a depth of water ranging from two to six fathoms. To keep at the work for a day they must frequently come up and warm themselves at a fire.

Beauty of Youth.

What an unbearable world it would be if we were all sent into it full grown. Just think of it! What a grand institution youth is, and not only our youth, but the youth of everything—the young leaves, the tiny blossoms, the inimitable green of the growing grass, the merry foals, and calves and lambs in the field, the downy little ducklings and the neat little chicks; what an enormous source of pleasure would be absent without all these. We all keep one special corner of our hearts for what is small, and young—the very softest corner. Even the most pompous and pragmatical of men forgives many things injurious to dignity on the part of a playful puppy or a graceful little kitten. How humanizing the effect of the brute creation is on us we have never properly appreciated.

EXPERIENCE OF MOTHERHOOD

Advice to Expectant Mothers

The experience of Motherhood is a trying one to most women and marks distinctly an epoch in their lives. Not one woman in a hundred is prepared or understands how to properly care for herself. Of course nearly every woman nowadays has medical treatment at such times, but many approach the experience with an organism unfitted for the trial of strength, and when it is over her system has received a shock from which it is hard to recover. Following right upon this comes the nervous strain of caring for the child, and a distinct change in the mother results.

There is nothing more charming than a happy and healthy mother of children, and indeed child-birth under the right conditions need be no hazard to health or beauty. The unexplainable thing is that, with all the evidence of shattered nerves and broken health resulting from an unprepared condition, and with ample time in which to prepare, women will persist in going blindly to the trial.

Every woman at this time should rely upon Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, a most valuable tonic and invigorator of the female organism.

In many homes once childless there are now children because of the fact that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound makes women normal, healthy and strong.

If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

Powder in the Sea.

It is calculated that in the depths of the sea, under 6,000 meters of water, there is a stratum of powder so infinitely fine that, were it broken in the fingers, it would penetrate the pores of the skin, this powder being made up of the remains of shells and the skeletons of little animals and plants. Each cubic centimeter of slime (or mud) that covers the bottom of the ocean contains the remains of ten thousand millions of organisms, each one of which is structurally as individual as the human body.

Dixon. All proposals must be made on blanks which will be furnished bidders at said City Clerk's Office.

The payment for the work for which said tenders are invited is to be made in cash or bonds, payable when the contract is completed, and the work accepted by the Board of Local Improvements, and Council of the City of Dixon, bonds to draw interest at five per cent. No bids will be considered unless the party making it shall furnish evidence satisfactory to the said Board of Local Improvements and the Council of the City of Dixon of his experience and ability in this class of work and that he can control sufficient capital to enable him to successfully prosecute the same in case the contract shall be awarded to him.

Bidders will examine the ordinance, maps, plats, plans, profiles and specifications and also the locality in which said work is to be done and judge for themselves of all the circumstances and surrounding conditions affecting the cost and nature of the work.

Specifications are on file with the Secretary of the Board of Local Improvements and may be seen at the office of the City Clerk of the City of Dixon, and are also on file in the Mayor's Office of said City.

The Council and the Board of Local Improvements reserve the right to reject any and all bids.

Dated at Dixon, Illinois, June 25, 1913.

Signed, THE COUNCIL AND BOARD OF LOCAL IMPROVEMENTS OF THE CITY OF DIXON.

PLAYED ON MEN'S CUPIDITY

Polish Jews Had Really Neat Fraudulent Scheme Which They Employed for Years.

There was a certain engaging novelty in the swindle practiced successfully for many years by four Polish Jews, who have recently been caught by the Parisian police. They worked on the cupidty of their victims in view of the desire that most people cherish of getting something for nothing.

The four swindlers first marked their man with care. They then approached him with the alluring suggestion that he should join them in the manufacture of banknotes by an electrical process of their own invention. The thing was simplicity itself. All one had to do was to place two two-pound notes—the dupe's, of course—in a square box, and a sheet of blank paper between them. After a suitable interval for incubation—twenty-four hours as a rule—the box was solemnly opened in the presence of the dupe, and "Hey, presto!" there were not two, but three banknotes.

To the dupe, of course, it appeared a royal road to riches, and he was easily induced to contribute a couple of 40-pound banknotes to his benefactors so as to have them subjected to the

MONEY MEASURE SENT TO CONGRESS

Currency Reform Bill Introduced in the Senate and House.

ONLY MINOR CHANGES MADE

Federal Board Remains Same—Provision for Retirement of Bank Notes and Refunding of Notes and Bonds Reinserted.

CURRENCY BILL CHANGES

Provision for retirement of present bank notes within 20 years and the substitution therefor of additional federal reserve notes is reinserted.

Proposed limit of $500,000,000 in reserve notes is eliminated.

Provision allowing the country banks to deposit a part of their reserves is revised, and federal regional banks are given authority to fix rate of discount, subject to approval of federal reserve board.

Washington, June 27.—Congress was given the currency reform bill. Senator Owen formally introduced the bill in the senate and Representative Glass presented it to the house. The house referred the measure to the banking and currency committee, and preparations were made to begin work on it immediately.

The bill as introduced contains a series of changes from the original draft. President Wilson has given authority that the measure as it stands shall be known as "the administration bill."

The first actual work on the bill will be done by the house committee on banking and currency, although it is doubtful whether there will be a meeting of the full committee before July 7. There still is a fight over the question of public hearings, and it is not likely that the bill will be ready for action in the house before August 10. The senate will not touch it until the tariff is out of the way.

Plan to Retire Bank Notes.

Reinserted in the bill is the original proposition for retiring the present bank notes within twenty years and the substitution therefor of additional federal reserve notes. This eliminates the proposed limit of $500,000,000 in reserve notes contained in the bill as originally made public. In replacing the bank notes the government now per cent. bonds, upon which they now are issued, would be refunded by three per cent. bonds without the circulation privilege.

Provision for Country Banks.

The provision allowing country banks to deposit a part of their reserves was revised, and the federal regional banks were given the authority to fix the rate of discount, subject to the approval of the federal reserve board. The reserve provision now would require country banks to keep five per cent. of their reserves in their own vaults and five per cent. at the regional reserve bank. The other five per cent. at a bank's option, might be deposited with the regional bank or go to a correspondent in a central reserve city with the approval of the federal reserve board.

Chairman Glass made preparations for the speedy consideration of the bill by the house committee. He obtained the passage through the house of two resolutions to facilitate the work. One provided for the printing and distribution of 25,000 copies of the new bill. The other, which was passed after a partisan discussion, provided $5,000 for the payment of experts to be employed by the committee.
